Lebanon Food Distribution

Where: North, South, and Mount Lebanon

When: February – March 2020

What We Did: We provided food boxes and blankets to vulnerable Lebanese families. Beneficiaries were selected through a rapid needs assessment, targeting the neediest district in Lebanon.

Why We Did It: Lebanon witnessed the worst economic crisis since 1920, starting in October 2019 and still escalating. Citizens are experiencing hard economic conditions, unemployment rates are rising, and inflation has reached unprecedented levels. Families are unable to secure their basic needs, especially food.

What We Achieved: 915 blankets (2 blankets/family) and 600 food boxes were distributed to families, benefitting 4,190 people.
Sudan School Feedings

Where: Sudan

When: February – April 2020

What We Did: We provided daily nutritious meals to 425 students at Shegerab High school in the Shegerab camp in Eastern Sudan over a period of 3 academic months. The meals revitalized students, fought malnutrition, enhanced academic performance, and increased attendance. The program ended 15 days early because the school was forced to close on April 1st due to COVID-19.

Why We Did It: School meals play a large role in keeping students in school, fighting malnutrition, and keeping them focused. For many students worldwide, school lunch will be the only wholesome meal of the day they will have. In many places in the Horn of Africa region where poverty is the norm, most schools can't afford to provide meals for children.

What We Achieved: Daily meals for 425 students for two months.

When: April – May 2020

What We Did: We provided food packs to families in eight countries across the globe. We also adapted to ongoing needs by delivering hygiene essentials in some of these countries. All of our partners followed safe distribution guidance while implementing our Feed Our World projects.

Why We Did It: Worldwide, hunger has been on the rise over the past three years, placing the achievement of the second Sustainable Development Goal by the UN (Zero Hunger) at risk. In addition to this, the Coronavirus pandemic has and will continue to have a catastrophic effect on food insecurity. Lockdown measures and economic recessions are expected to lead to a major loss of income among the working class, reducing their purchasing power. These disruptions will also impact the transport and processing of food and other critical goods, reducing the availability of even the most basic food items. Policies such as tariffs and export bans could also drive up food prices in countries that rely heavily on food imports.

What We Achieved: We provided 6,127 people in eight countries with 515 hygiene kits and 946 food packs.

Eid al-Adha Distributions

Where: Virginia, Maryland, New Jersey, North Carolina, Georgia

When: July – August 2020

What We Did: We brought hope to families in need this Eid al-Adha through food baskets, Eid meals, Qurbani meat, and cash cards.

Why We Did It: Eid al-Adha is one of the biggest celebrations in the Muslim faith. It commemorates the end of the first ten days of Dhul-Hijjah during which nearly 2 million Muslims make their pilgrimage to Mecca. COVID-19 has made this celebration feel very different this year as friends and families were not able to gather as they have in years' past. We wanted to reach families who were hit the hardest by the pandemic and to bring them joy through Eid al-Adha feasts.

What We Achieved: We helped 449 families celebrate Eid al-Adha.

COVID-19 Food Baskets Distribution

Where: South Africa

When: July – October 2020

What We’re Doing: In partnership with Al-Imdaad Foundation, we provided 5,650 food packs, which supplied families with nourishment that lasted up to three weeks. This helped ease the burden of hunger on the neediest families and relieved pressure from heads of households who were affected by job loss due to the COVID-19 pandemic. It also helped to curb coping strategies such as looting and theft.

Why We’re Doing It: Almost all the Cape Flats communities remain poverty stricken. As lockdowns are starting to end, some analysts are predicting a post COVID-19 unemployment rate as high as 50%. Food security and rising hunger has become a major concern for families in the Cape Flats region.
Thanksgiving

Where: Washington, DC

When: November 2020
